In Pursuit of a Decision: Production Strength from İzmir to Sivas

We started 21 years ago in a small workshop. Today, our focus is clear: to produce and to be ready.

With our new facility in Sivas, we are increasing our annual capacity to 500,000 units, making our processes more efficient, faster, and more accessible. This step is not merely a relocation; it is the transfer of years of experience into a stronger production infrastructure.

Today, it is no longer just about producing it is about staying ready at all times. Our renewed stock structure enables projects to move forward without delay, ensuring the right product is available at the right time.

But one truth remains: stock changes, conditions evolve.

For this reason, stock is not only about availability it is the advantage of making the right decision at the right moment.

We invite contractors, architects, and all our partners to make the most of this advantage at the right time.

Sardes

Sardes transforms the surface from a simple door into a strong design element that reinforces the architectural order of a space, defined by its rhythmic vertical lines and controlled frame structure. By combining the linear tradition of Anatolian stone craftsmanship with contemporary surface discipline, it brings clarity, rhythm, and character to its environment.

Designed for spaces that value architectural order, aligned details, and a strong surface rhythm.

Areas of Use:

Character-driven modern residential projects
Boutique hotels focused on architectural detail
High-ceiling offices and living spaces

Soft Sense™ colors:

Surface finish resistant
to impact and moisture.

Berlin

Modern Series

Berlin reinterprets the classic panel door with sharper proportions and a double-frame surface composition, bringing a modern discipline to the space. The interlocking panel frames create controlled depth, while the full-height form gives the door a strong, urban architectural character. With Berlin, your space gains a clearer, more measured, and more contemporary expression.

Perge

Premium Series

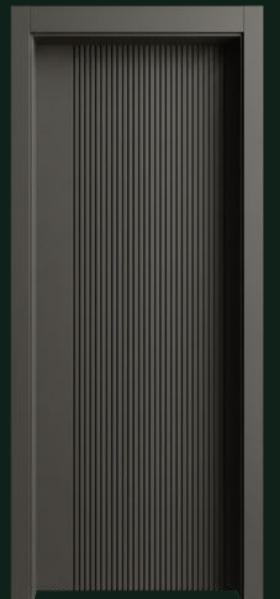

Perge creates a strong vertical flow within the space, turning the door into a distinct architectural focal point. The full-height rhythmic lines draw on modernist principles of rhythm, proportion, and surface movement, while the balanced panel composition delivers a presence that is both powerful and refined.

Country2

Modern Series

Country 2 reinterprets the classic panel door with clearer lines and more defined surface articulation, bringing a controlled elegance to the space. While preserving the proportion between the tall upper panel and the square lower form, the sharpened frame details give the design a more decisive and refined character.

Cone

Royal Series

Cone reinterprets classical panel architecture through balanced proportions, bringing an elegant and rooted character to living spaces. The tall upper panel and the compact square panel below create a measured hierarchy and natural harmony across the door surface. It reflects the noble line of the Royal Series with a warmer, more inviting, and timeless classical aesthetic.

Roma

Modern Series

Roma brings a monumental sense of order to the space through its controlled vertical rhythm. The repeating linear structure directs light and shadow with architectural precision, shaping a character that is both strong and calm. Defined by timeless proportions, it stands as a modern monolith within its setting.

Minimalist Offices

Cubic

Royal Series

Cubic reinterprets classical panel architecture through a single, strong surface composition, bringing understated grandeur to the space. The full-height central panel, defined by precise proportions, gives the door a monolithic presence and a timeless sense of prestige. It reflects the refined character of the Royal Series expression.
